

Next Generation Designs from Centuries Old Wood

Reclaimed from the same boards and beams that built the factories of the industrial revolution, Ark's treasured old-growth, heart pine awaits stunning new realms of possibility in your next design-build project.

Aesthetics

Reclaimed old-growth, southern yellow heart pine is prized for its tight vertical grains, subtle reveals and deep, resinous sheen.

Hardness & Stability

'Aged in place' for centuries, this highly stable wood resists shrinking, warping and rot, is hard as cast iron of similar dimension and comparable to hardwoods like White Oak and Honduran Mahogany.

Finishing

Specify rough sawn to smooth, planed surfaces, control the balance of clear boards and subtle reveals and choose from a variety of tints, tones and colors to enliven any design.

Beamstock

Perfect for soaring visual statements, Ark's incredible, indoor beam-stock of old-growth heart pine timbers is available in sizes up to 15" x 15" x 32'.

Customization

Ark's experienced millwork team can specify infinite design variations with CNC cut precision.

Species Specifications
Old-Growth, Southern Yellow Heart Pine
Average Dried Weight	41 lbs/ft ³
Janka Hardness	1270 lb _f
Shrinkage	Radial: 5.1%
Modulus of Rupture	14,000 lb _f /in ²
Modulus of Elasticity	1,980,000 lb _f /in ²

Applications

Perfect for a variety of applications, Ark's treasured woods are the perfect material for moulding, trim, rails, ceilings, walls and architectural features.